

Savings Shop Online

Choose a store

Shopping List

SIGN IN

Search

Black History Month

Chefs Creating Pathways to Excellence. Publix Joins in the Celebration of Black History Month.

Keep making history

We celebrate the trailblazers who create pathways to excellence. The leaders who lift as they climb. And this Black History Month, we're shining a light on three chefs who share a single mission: to inspire the next generation to keep making history.

Meet the Chefs

Chef G. Garvin (left) is a James Beard Award-nominated chef as well as a cookbook author, television host, and the executive chef of LowCountry Restaurants in Atlanta

Chef Erika Council is the food writer, recipe developer, and photographer behind her popular blog, Southern Soufflé, and the owner of Atlanta's beloved Bomb Biscuits pop-up.

Chef Joe Randall (right) is a legendary Southern chef, cookbook author, and founder of Chef Joe Randall's Cooking School (now the African American Chefs Hall of Fame) in Savannah. You can call him the Dean of Southern Cuisine.

Inspired Recipes for Black History Month

Enjoy these Publix Aprons® recipes inspired by the rich traditions and culinary heritage we celebrate as part of Black History Month.

Shop with us

- Locations
- FAQs
- Contact us
- Recalls
- Apps
- Publix.com membership

Work with us

- About Publix
- Careers
- Sustainability
- Community
- Business partners

Services you'll love

- Gift cards
- Special item requests
- Presto! ATM
- Aprons Recipes
- Aprons Catering
- Aprons Cooking School
- Health & wellness
- Shelf tags & icons

More ways to shop

- Browse Products
- Publix Pharmacy
- Publix Liquors
- GreenWise Market
- Publix apparel & gifts

Need help with something?
1-800-242-1227 | CONTACT US

TERMS OF USE & PRIVACY POLICY | HEALTHCARE NONDISCRIMINATION |  ACCESSIBILITY

Copyright © Publix Asset Management Company 2020. All Rights Reserved